The Auxiliary of UCSF Hospitals & Clinics is presening "A Viewing of the Tiffany Collection," Friday, May 1, at the de Young Museum from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The exhibit is the largest collection of its kind in the world, and includes more than 300 objects of Tiffany stained glass lamps, jewelry and other art works. Wine, cheese and musical entertainment will be provided.

All proceeds wil aid Hospitals & Clinics patients. Tickets are $15 each. For further information contact Eileen Puppo, Auxiliary Office, x4906, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

In addition, the Auxiliary announces that there now is a donation box in the lobby of Medical Sciences for good quality usable items for the "Bear-ly New" thrift shop. The shop, which is located at 1909 Fillmore Street, also is in need of volunteer help. Persons interested should contact Estelle Blair, shop manager at 921-2789 during shop hours, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

The Chancellor's Award for Public Service will be given on Friday, May 1, in the Millberry Union lounge at noon. The Thomas N. Burbridge Public Service Award also will be presented. At the time of this printing the names of the winners have not been announced.

These awards have been given annually since 1971 to faculty, staff or students who perform exceptional community services beyond the scope of their work. Recipients of the Chancellor's Award are given certificates and $500. The Burbridge Award winner receives $600, $100 of which is donated by UCSF's Black Caucus. The Burbridge Award winner must demonstrate particular contributions to equal education and employment opportunity, and to social justice, and must reflect the impact made by Burbridge, the late UCSF associate professor of Pharmacology, on the Black and other minority communities.

Joanne Lewis, coordinator of the Fair Employment Practices Commission, S.F., will speak at the ceremonies. Lewis won the Burbridge Award in 1973 and is former coordinator of UCSF's Affirmative Action Office. Freeman Bradley, director, Research and Development Laboratory, is chair of the committee.

NEWS BRIEFS

This year's Alpha Omega Alpha lecturer is David H. Solomon, professor and executive chairman of the Department of Medicine, UCLA. He will present "An Approach to the Patient with a Thyroid Nodule" on Wednesday, April 22 in Cole Hall at 10:30 a.m. It will be the first topic for Medicine Grand Rounds.

Alpha Omega Alpha is an honorary medical society that is equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa, into which students are elected at the end of their third year.

The first annual UCSF Graduating Student Reception will be held on Friday, May 1, in the Millberry Union Lounge from 4 to 6 p.m.

This invitational reception will recognize accomplishments of all the 1981 graduating students of the schools of Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing and Pharmacy. It is sponsored by Chancellor Sooy and the Alumni Association of UCSF (AAUCSF) and will have live music and refreshments. Deans of the four schools also have been invited to attend.

The School of Nursing and Hospitals & Clinics Nursing Services will hold an informational open house on nursing education and career opportunities on Saturday, May 2 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the lobby of the School of Nursing.

"Careers and Education: You Can Do Both at UCSF" is directed toward men and women in nursing who are interested in furthering their careers. One of the goals of the open house is to recruit prospective minorities in nursing to work and attend school at UCSF.

The full day's program includes educational forums, hospital tours, and exhibits. The keynote address, "Issues in Career Mobility," will be delivered by Margretta M. Styles, dean of the School, and Helen Ripple, director of Nursing Service and associate director of Hospitals and Clinics.

The Second Annual Verne T. Inman Lectureship and the Sixteenth Annual LeRoy C. Abbott Orthopaedic Society's Scientific Program will be held Tuesday to Friday, May 5 to 8.

The visiting professor for both lectures will be J. William Fielding, clinical professor, Orthopaedic Surgery, Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons and director of Orthopaedic Surgery, St. Luke's Hospital, N.Y.

The Inman Lecture, entitled "The Cervical Spine," will be given on Thursday, May 7; the Abbott Lecture, entitled "Monuments of the Past," on Friday, May 8. Both will be held in Cole Hall at 11:30 a.m.

The Inman Lectureship honors the second chairman of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, who was internationally known for his research on human locomotion and the development of prosthetic devices for the amputee. Inman established UCSF's Biomechanics Laboratory in 1957, the first lab of its kind anywhere devoted to this discipline and served as its director for 16 years.

The Abbott Orthopaedic Society was founded in 1965 in honor of the chairman of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery from 1939 to 1957.

For registration information on both lectures call x1166.

A $1,000 contribution has been made to the Pediatric Oncology Research Fund from the parents of John Prudhomme, a 17-year-old high school senior from Exeter who died last December of leukemia. John received treatment regularly at UCSF since 1971, when his cancer was diagnosed.

Arthur R. Ablin, head of Pediatric Onocology, said that part of the Prudhomme contribution will be used to cover printing and publication expenses for an informational booklet on children's cancer designed for UCSF patients and their families.

Langley Porter held its annual Service Awards Ceremony on March 31, honoring those employed there for 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 35 years. Robert Wallerstein, professor and chair of Psychiatry and Julia Robinson, director, LPPI, presided over the ceremonies.

A lively afternoon of theater, dance and music performed by talented Mission Community teenagers will highlight the celebration of Mission Youth Live — a program of youth in the performing arts — on Sunday, April 26, at the Mission High School Auditorium, 3750 - 18th Street, S.F., from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

The afternoon of youth entertainment is co-sponsored by UCSF's Teens 'N Theater Company and the 11th International Chicano Latino Teatro Festival committee. The program includes an original play on life in the Mission community by Teens 'N Theater, a dance performance by Mission in Motion, "The Leash," a play performed by Teatro Gusto and the salsa band Sangre Nueva. Admission is $1 and benefits the International Chicano Latino Teatro Festival. For further information contact Richard Woo, 282-4768.

Applications and nominations are being accepted for the position of dean of the School of Public Health, UC-Berkeley. Application deadline is June 15.

The Public Health dean is responsible for instruction and training in public health at both UC-Berkeley and UCSF. The school in Berkeley has two departments — biomedical/environmental health sciences and social administrative health sciences.

The person appointed must be notably accomplished in health, with professional scholarship warranting a full professorship. Also, the person should have successful experience in academic administration and a perception of the needs and directions of the public health field and the School of Public Health.

A full job description is available from the Dean of Public Health Search Committee, Office of the Provost—Professional Schools and Colleges, 200 California Hall, UC-Berkeley, 94720.

Deadline for submitting applications for Arthritis Foundation fellowships and grants is September 1.

The Arthritis Foundation offers a limited number of research fellowships for physicians and scientists pursuing investigative or clinical teaching careers in the areas of science related to arthritis. The awards are designed for advanced training in research, not as grants-in-aid for specific projects.

Research fellowships and grants also are available to graduate, non-physician health professionals for research training and development of investigative skills. Applications for these are due November 1.

To obtain grant and fellowship applications write to: Arthritis Foundation, Research Department, Box 201, 2400 Peachtree Road, NE, Atlanta, GA, 30326.

A Social/Sexual Communication Skills Workshop will be held all day Saturday, May 2, and Wednesday evenings, May 6 and 13. Sponsored by the Human Sexuality Program, the workshop will teach the principles and skills of assertive communication in the initiation and development of intimate relationships including: learning to be persistent, dealing with criticism and rejections, giving and receiving compliments, and making conversation.

For registration and fee information call x4623.
